

RIVERSIDE

SEWELL

November 10-17, 2007

Saturday, November 10

Autism and Art: Exploration and Celebration

All Day, Memorial Auditorium Lobby (Life Hall)

(Exhibit will run through December 16—Closing Reception, December 16, 4pm)

With the objective of raising awareness of Autism, a disorder afflicting approximately 1 in 90 individuals in NJ (the national average is about 1 in 160). The goal of this exhibit, with work by artists on the Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD), is to redefine the way we look at individuals with Autism and to increase dialogue and understanding between health and service providers, the arts community, families and individuals on the Spectrum. For more information please visit <http://www.montclair.edu/Arts/oeco/NJAH.html>.

6th Biennial Rainbow Families NJ Conference

9am - 4pm, Student Center

The Rainbow Family Conference offers LGBT families and their friends and families a broad array of workshops and programs with content ranging from those considering parenting, to general parenting, to school strategies, to legal and financial information. For more information, including registration forms, please visit Rainbow Families of New Jersey @ <http://www.rainbowfamiliesnj.org>.

Monday, November 12

The Mandala Project

All Day, Student Center Ballroom C

Come view the collective Mandala display made up of hundreds of individual works created by the MSU community as we celebrate the beauty of individuality and wholeness.

The Real Story of the Superheroes

4pm, Student Center Ballroom C

Mexican-born photographer Dulce Pinzon discusses how the aftermath of 9/11 led her to reconsider the notion of "hero" and how it pertains to the lives of Latin American immigrant workers in her community of Brooklyn, NY. Her exhibit, "The Real Story of the Superheroes" is on display at the Montclair Art Museum through January 2008.

Tuesday, November 13

The Mandala Project

10am - 3pm, Student Center Ballroom C

Wednesday, November 14

The Darker Side of Fair

3pm, Mallory Hall 155

Film screening which addresses the popular practice of skin-bleaching in India, while engaging in a cross-cultural dialogue on multicultural standards of beauty.

Co-sponsored by Counseling & Psychological Services (CAPS), the Indian Cultural Club, and the Women's Center.

Thursday, November 15

Celtic Spirituality

10am, Drop-In Center

Lecture with Reverend Barbara Prince, of the United Church of Christ and Spiritual Director of the First Congregational Church of Montclair and with Lisa Greene, Candidate of Ordination for the Episcopal Church and Assistant Director of InterWeave, in Summit, N.J.

Toward a Jewish Theology of Christianity

2:30pm, Cohen Lounge (Dickson Hall)

Dr. Michael Kogan, Professor of Philosophy and Religion, will discuss his new publication titled Opening the Covenant: A Jewish Theology of Christianity.

Friday, November 16

The LPANJ 2007 Annual Conference

9am – 4:30pm, Conference Center (University Hall)

The Latino Psychological Association of New Jersey presents its 8th Annual Conference on Latino Psychology. Keynote Presentation: Context and Connection: Diagnosis and Intervention in Context by Monica McGoldrick, LCSW, PhD and Nydia Garcia Preto, LCSW, ACSW. Please visit <http://www.lpanj.org> for more information, including online registration.

