

Teaching New Jersey's LGBTQ+ History in K-12 Schools

Want to learn how to teach New Jersey's LGBTQ+ history with an intersectional focus?

Join Montclair State University, anti-bias educators at We Are History, and community activists with the Queer Newark Oral History Project for an exciting and interactive workshop on teaching New Jersey's LGBTQ+ history in K-12 schools.

This workshop will include an introduction to teaching New Jersey's LGBTQ+ history, a discussion of best pedagogy and practice, and mock lessons for elementary and secondary classrooms.

Learn how to explore the liberatory potential of centering local LGBTQ+ voices through oral histories in Newark, NJ!

Sponsored by: College of Education and Human Services, We Are History, the Queer Newark Oral History Project, & the ADP Center for Learning Technologies.
