

BENEFITS WHILE RECEIVING TEMPORARY WORKERS COMPENSATION PAYMENTS

HEALTH BENEFITS

Health benefits coverage will continue in force for you, and all eligible dependents covered under your health benefits coverage level selection. While receiving Workers' Compensation you will be required to submit your share of the cost of health benefit premiums.

The University will continue to pay its portion of your benefit plan(s) during your absence provided we receive your portion of the benefit premiums. A breakdown of your payment and scheduled due dates will be sent via email by HR/Benefits.

PENSION

The University will continue to pay your (PERS/PFRS) pension contributions during your absence.

If you have any outstanding pension loans, it is your responsibility to contact the NJ Division of Pensions and Benefits at (609) 292-7524 for payment instructions.

**ABP members are not eligible for employee and employer contributions while receiving workers compensation payments.

GROUP LIFE INSURANCE

Noncontributory Group Life Insurance will remain in effect while the University is making pension contributions for the member.

PERS members have the option to continue the contributory portion of group life insurance. Your payment shall be remitted directly to the NJDPB with a Personal Insurance Contribution Remittance form.

Payments should be made immediately upon your leave. If you do not make these optional premium payments, Contributory Group Life Insurance is suspended until you return to regular payroll. If you have any questions on the continuation of Contributory Group Life Insurance, you contact the NJ Division of Pensions and Benefits at (609) 292-7524.
