NEW Software Center Interface

The current Munki Mac Management System is being replaced with Jamf software to manage all MSU Mac machines. The Managed Software Center application will be replaced with Software Center. In the Managed Software Center you will be able to download approved software packages at your convenience from a library. It is arranged much like the iTunes app store. Upon log on, you will see an updates folder that will have a notification bubble for any newly added updates. In addition, you will be able to review your history to locate all of your previously installed application installations for your reference.
