All American Games LLC

Title: Selection Tour Associate

Location: Rockaway, NJ

Job Type: Full-time

Compensation Type: Stipends Wage: $1500 per month

Start Date: 8/14/2017 End Date: 8/11/2017

Job Description: After a 3-week training period, embark on the Selection Tour. Teams of three travel to schools and present and announce the official selection of each U.S. Army All-American 100 football players and 125 marching band members at their respective high schools across the country during assemblies, pep rallies, press conferences and football games. Significant travel from September through December.

Primary Responsibilities: Presentations at high schools across the country during assemblies, pep rallies, press conferences and football games.

Qualifications: College graduate, outgoing, personable, energetic and customer-service-minded, highly self-motivated and looking for a career in event-planning, marketing, media or operations, computer skills (Microsoft Office (Word/Excel/PowerPoint), file sharing such as Dropbox or wetransfer.com, etc), excellent oral and written communication skills, attention to detail and experience with meeting strict deadlines,

Application Instructions: Send resume to HR@allamericangames.com

Disclaimer Information

About the organization:

All American Games (AAG) is a sports marketing & management firm which owns and operates major national prep and youth football events.

Its signature event, the U.S. Army All-American Bowl is the nation’s premier prep football game. The game, which has produced over 300 NFL players, is aired live on NBC and is seen by 4.1 million unique viewers and attended by 40,000 spectators annually.

AAG’s Football University conducts camps in 25 cities across the country, reaching nearly 10,000 families. Each one of the 25 camps includes 20+ coaches with NFL backgrounds. In addition, AAG runs the largest youth football national championship. This tournament-style event includes 192 teams vying to be named the best in the country.