The Hun School of Princeton

Title: Computer Science Department Chair

Location: Princeton, NJ

Job Type: Full-Time (Experienced)

Compensation Type: Salary

Start Date: ASAP

Job Description: The Computer Science Department Chair will provide the leadership skills necessary to develop and grow a computer science program for high school students, collaborate with department chairs on the Academic Leadership Team to facilitate the development of future computer electives that are aligned with the school’s skills-based curriculum, and offer the ability to instruct a wide range of computer science courses including AP Computer Science.

Qualifications: Experience teaching high school students is preferred as is an interest in advising student clubs, sports, and other activities

Application Instructions: Interested candidates should send a cover letter and resume to Celeste Dirk, Director of Human Resources, at celestedirk@hunschool.org

Disclaimer Information

About the organization: The Hun School of Princeton, an independent, coeducational boarding/day school enrolling a diverse student body of 630 in grades 6-PG that is defined by its highly engaging college preparatory curriculum; broad extracurricular programs; supportive faculty who know and care for their students; and a happy, kind, respectful spirit.