About the organization:

JondoU.com is an online community for photographers launching this summer. JondoU.com will be a “one-stop shop” website that takes pride in helping photographers find their passion, improve their skills, get the latest photography-related news and learn about equipment. Our goal is to inspire others to be the best photographers they can be!

The best way we do this is by inspiring each other to be our best, too, which means our interns will be surrounded by experienced photographers, videographers and writers who are well-traveled and eager to share their talents. And we’ll want to hear YOUR ideas, too!
Disclaimer information: The office is located along beautiful Main Street in Somerville, NJ. Sorry, telecommuting is not an option -- mainly because we are a friendly bunch eager to share our ideas and talents!
