WHAT IS CREEHS?
The Center for Research and Evaluation on Education and Human Services (CREEHS) conducts state-of-the-art evaluation and applied research for enhancing program planning and success in order to foster a better educated, healthier and more just society; provides high-quality evaluation training and education; and advances evaluation science by bridging the research and practice communities. CREEHS collaborates with and provides services to educational agencies, community organizations and health-related government and human services agencies, to meet their accountability and program improvement needs. CREEHS serves as a professional setting for researchers, faculty and students to work together in carrying out thoughtful and responsive evaluation and research studies.

The vision of CREEHS is to be a value-added partner to our clients in the planning, strengthening and sustaining of the services they provide for the health, education and well-being of individuals and their communities.

The mission of CREEHS is to empower and enable professionals to plan and evaluate programs that best serve the broader community and improve people’s lives. CREEHS fulfills this mission by conducting high-quality program evaluations, applying innovative and collaborative techniques to bridge the gap between research and practice. This includes building capacity and providing hands-on learning to individuals who serve or will serve the community.
