Photography from the Collections of Montclair State University

September 8 – December 17, 2016

Opening Reception:

Thursday, Sept. 8, 2016, 6:00 pm. – 7:30 pm.

Guest Curator:

Mimi Weinberg, curator, artist and writer, teaches Art History and Theory at Montclair State University and Stern College of Yeshiva University.

The exhibition features 47 original photographs, 11 educational photographs and one mask to demonstrate the strength of the photography collection. Dating from 1987 to 2010 the collection represents the progression of the field itself from silver gelatin black and whites to the digital age in photography.
