Autism and Art: Exploration and Celebration
All Day, Memorial Auditorium Lobby (Life Hall)
(Exhibit will run through December 16—Closing Reception, December 16, 4pm)
With the objective of raising awareness of Autism, a disorder afflicting approximately 1 in 90 individuals in NJ (the national average is about 1 in 160). The goal of this exhibit, with work by artists on the Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD), is to redefine the way we look at individuals with Autism and to increase dialogue and understanding between health and service providers, the arts community, families and individuals on the Spectrum. For more information please visit http://www.montclair.edu/Arts/oeco/NJAHI.html.

6th Biennial Rainbow Families NJ Conference
9am - 4pm, Student Center
The Rainbow Family Conference offers LGBT families and their friends and families a broad array of workshops and programs with content ranging from those considering parenting, to general parenting, to school strategies, to legal and financial information. For more information, including registration forms, please visit Rainbow Families of New Jersey @ http://www.rainbowfamiliesnj.org.

The Mandala Project
All Day, Student Center Ballroom C
Come view the collective Mandala display made up of hundreds of individual works created by the MSU community as we celebrate the beauty of individuality and wholeness.

The Real Story of the Superheroes
4pm, Student Center Ballroom C
Mexican-born photographer Dulce Pinzon discusses how the aftermath of 9/11 led her to reconsider the notion of "hero" and how it pertains to the lives of Latin American immigrant workers in her community of Brooklyn, NY. Her exhibit, "The Real Story of the Superheroes" is on display at the Montclair Art Museum through January 2008.

The Mandala Project
10am - 3pm, Student Center Ballroom C

The Darker Side of Fair
3pm, Mallory Hall 155
Film screening which addresses the popular practice of skin-bleaching in India, while engaging in a cross-cultural dialogue on multicultural standards of beauty.
Co-sponsored by Counseling & Psychological Services (CAPS), the Indian Cultural Club, and the Women's Center.

Celtic Spirituality
10am, Drop-In Center
Lecture with Reverend Barbara Prince, of the United Church of Christ and Spiritual Director of the First Congregational Church of Montclair and with Lisa Greene, Candidate of Ordination for the Episcopal Church and Assistant Director of InterWeave, in Summit, N.J.

Toward a Jewish Theology of Christianity
2:30pm, Cohen Lounge (Dickson Hall)
Dr. Michael Kogan, Professor of Philosophy and Religion, will discuss his new publication titled Opening the Covenant: A Jewish Theology of Christianity.

The LPANJ 2007 Annual Conference
9am – 4:30pm, Conference Center (University Hall)
The Latino Psychological Association of New Jersey presents its 8th Annual Conference on Latino Psychology. Keynote Presentation: Context and Connection: Diagnosis and Intervention in Context by Monica McGoldrick, LCSW, PhD and Nydia Garcia Preto, LCSW, ACSW. Please visit http://www.lpanj.org for more information, including online registration.

For more information on Diversity Week please contact Kara Morillo, Program Coordinator, Equity and Diversity Programs at 973.655.5114.