The Extension Division is part of the John J. Cali School of Music in the College of the Arts at Montclair State University. It was first established as the Music Preparatory Division in 1976 to provide musical education and training for all age groups. Through the years the division has served as a supplemental musical enrichment for some and a comprehensive musical training ground for others who have gone on to pursue successful careers in music. The John J. Cali School of Music Extension Division is dedicated to providing students of all ages, backgrounds and levels of ability with the experience of learning music in an encouraging environment intended to enhance creative growth and foster a life-long understanding of and appreciation for the musical arts. The John J. Cali School of Music Extension Division provides one of the most unique learning environments in Northern New Jersey, offering students of all ages the opportunity to share music experiences with professional artist-teachers, energetic-enthusiastic music majors as well as members of the John J. Music Studies & Activities for Youth, High School Students and Adults

Extension Division programming is for students age 3 through adult. Private lessons, ensembles and classes are scheduled on a 14-week semester basis and divided into fall and spring terms. Ensembles and classes primarily meet on Saturdays. Private lessons can be scheduled for Saturdays or weekdays. Extension Division students are provided the opportunity to perform on an end of the semester recital.

Private Studio Lessons
Private Studio Lessons provide one-on-one comprehensive training with a skilled artist-teacher. Our instructors are able to work with beginning students through the very advanced. Private Studio Lessons meet once a week in coordination with the program’s semester calendars. The semester calendars can be found on page 14.

Instrumental
Students age 4 and older interested in instrumental lessons can take private lessons ranging in duration from 15-minutes for the very young to 60-minutes for the more advanced student. Private instrumental lessons are available for piano, strings, brass, woodwinds and percussion.

Vocal
Students interested in vocal lessons generally start at age 12 or later. An initial meeting with a vocal faculty member is required before scheduling vocal lessons.

Composition
Students interested in composition lessons must be proficient in note and rhythm reading. Students are encouraged to bring any examples of pieces they have created.

Private lesson scheduling is based around classes and/or ensembles selected.

Suzuki Lessons
The Suzuki Method evolved from Dr. Suzuki's approach in teaching the violin. He pioneered the idea that young children could learn to play the violin if the learning steps were small enough and the instrument was scaled down to fit their body size. The musical accomplishments of the child are a result of a team effort involving parent, child and teacher. A positive atmosphere is essential to the success of the method. A parent/guardian must accompany the child to the lessons and serves as a surrogate teacher at home supervising practice. Note reading is integrated as the readiness becomes apparent while the student develops imitative listening and memory skills.

Suzuki Violin Study
Suzuki violin study consists of two components: a 15, 30, 45 or 60-minute private lesson and a 30-minute Suzuki Group Class. The fees listed are based on the length of the private lessons and include the cost of the group class.

Class and Ensemble Descriptions

Classes and ensembles meet Saturdays on a 14-week semester basis divided into fall and spring terms.

Chamber Ensembles

Chamber performance can be one of the most rewarding music experiences. Chamber groups are small ensembles with mixed instruments usually consisting of three to four performers per group. Because each player has a separate individual part, it is essential that students attend rehearsals regularly and practice their parts outside of rehearsal.

NEW! Fiddle Classes

WHY FIDDLE? Why not fiddle?! Fiddle music is the Suzuki method in its natural habitat-

Learning music by ear, in a supportive community with a common repertoire, and passing it on to future generations! There are traditions of fiddle music in many cultures around the world, including the USA. Fiddle music emerges when people who harbor the traditional music of their culture play that music on the violin, for enjoyment, self-expression, and for social dancing. Modern fiddle music has evolved into an ever more complex, ever changing, virtuosic and artistic form of musical expression on the violin, continuing the traditions with creativity and flair. A culture’s fiddle music is shaped through a process of “musical natural selection” with each new generation learning, playing, and adapting the music, much like a living language. Thus fiddle traditions are mostly aural traditions though fiddlers are musically literate and learn to read and write music notation. Honing the skill of learning tunes by ear is an invaluable education for any musician, as it allows one to learn not only what they hear from the outside, person to person, but also to play what they hear in their own heads, paving the way for composing. Through learning fiddle, violinists learn to approach their instruments in a new way that gives freedom to be creative, to make music with their peers or anyone around the world who shares their musical "language," for fun, for enjoyment, for dancing, and to be part of a living tradition that they can take pride in continuing and eventually pass on to future generations.

How?: Fiddle music combines the violinist aspects of classical music, the improvisational aspects of jazz, the forms and chord changes of rock and pop, the ornamentation and dance forms of Baroque music, and the challenges of integrating rhythm into your playing through playing for dancing. Through studying scales, chords, and the rhythms of particular fiddle traditions, students develop the basics of our musical "language." Through learning tunes aurally by call and response, students develop ear training skills, and really learn to listen to each other. Through connecting what we play with our voices and our "inner ear" we learn to play with more musicality.

Full Year Registration Option: Students who expect to return in the spring semester are encouraged to register for a full year. Full Year students will automatically be re-registered for the spring semester. Full Year students can request schedule changes. Tuition for Full Year students is billed on a per semester basis.

Installment Plan Option: The Installment Plan payment option allows for the total semester bill to be made in three payments. There is a $30 installment fee per semester for this payment option. The payment schedule and amount due per payment are listed on the bottom of each semester invoice statement. No additional invoices are sent.

AUTOMATIC PAYMENT: For your convenience, an installment payment plan can be set up via Credit Card Authorization. Your credit card will be automatically charged on the specified installment due dates.

Processing Fee: The $10 fee only applies to Advanced Studio Instruction, Music Technology Classes, and Adult Studies and Activities.

Late Fee: A late fee of $30 is applied to any installment payment or invoice not paid within one week after the due date.

Over Due Accounts: Any account 30 days past due will result in student suspension or dismissal from the program. Unless payment arrangements are made in advance, any account 60 days past due is automatically sent to a collection agency.

Student Schedule Changes/Transfer Fees
Students may make schedule changes up to the fifth week of the semester. After the fifth semester week a student schedule is considered set. In the event a student wants to make a schedule change after the fifth week of class a transfer fee of $20 will be applied per schedule change.

EXTENSION DIVISION POLICIES
STUDENT PLACEMENT
The Extension Division places new students with an instructor. In certain cases an interview, audition and/or exam may be required.

STUDENT ATTENDANCE
Students are expected to attend their regularly scheduled lessons, classes or ensembles. Three consecutive absences may result in suspension from the program. Re-admittance to the program will be at the discretion of the Director and individual instructor(s).

LESSON CANCELLATION/MAKE-UPS
The Extension Division office or individual instructor should be notified at least 24 hours in advance, if possible, when a lesson, class or ensemble must be missed. This notice does not exempt the student from payment as contracted. There are no make-ups for student absences. If the instructor is absent, a make-up will be scheduled at a mutually convenient time.
Recitals

Studio Recitals are held at the end of each semester. Students are encouraged to perform on a recital and share what they have accomplished over the course of the semester. Students are not, however, required to perform. Family and friends are welcome to our studio recitals! In the event of a recital cancellation due to weather or other circumstances a make-up recital cannot always be guaranteed.

Photography, Video and Audio Recordings Release

Periodically, the Extension Division will photograph, video, or audio record lessons, classes, ensemble rehearsals, and performances. The Extension Division reserves the right to use these photos, videos, and audio recordings for publicity purposes such as informational brochure, the website, flyers, press releases, and advertising. Upon registration the parent/guardian of a student under the age of 18 or an adult student, 18 years or older, grants the Extension Division permission to use for publicity purposes any photos, videos, and audio recordings taken. In the event an adult student does not want their image used or a parent/guardian does not want their child’s image used the Extension Division requires a written request specifying this. The names of individuals in the photos, videos, and audio recordings will not be published unless specific permission is given.

Problems/Concerns

Parents/Guardians and/or Students are encouraged to notify the Extension Division office as soon as a problem arises, whether financial, instructional, or personal. Every effort will be made to respond to individual needs.

Suspension

A student may be suspended or dismissed for the following reasons: a) three or more consecutive absences; b) behavioral problems; c) failure to abide by school policy; or d) account 30 days past due.
