Purpose

To establish a University-wide program that permits University classified employees, faculty and unclassified professional staff and librarians to voluntarily donate portions of their earned sick and/or vacation time to other such employees who have exhausted their own earned leave time, and who are suffering from a catastrophic health condition or injury which necessitates the prolonged absence from work by the employee, or who is needed to provide care to a member of the employee’s immediate family who is suffering from a catastrophic health condition or injury.

Eligibility for Donated Leave

- The recipient must have completed at least one year of continuous University service.
- The recipient or the immediate family member must be suffering from a catastrophic health condition or injury which is defined as follows: a life-threatening condition or combination of conditions.

- The recipient has not, in the two-year period immediately preceding the employee’s need for donated leave, been disciplined for chronic or excessive absenteeism, chronic or excessive lateness, or abuse of leave.
- The recipient must receive a total of at least five (5) donated days from any one or more leave donors to participate in the program.
- An employee receiving donated leave shall not receive temporary disability benefits for the same period he/she is paid wages from donated sick and/or vacation leave.

Any employee who engages in the above prohibited conduct shall be subject to disciplinary action.

Other Conditions

Any proration that would amount to less than one whole day per donor will not be returned. The only exception to the immediate return of unused donated days that will be made is if the medical documentation returning the employee to work indicates that further treatment will be required and provides a schedule for such treatment.

- Donations may not be used on a retroactive basis.
- The eligible recipient’s leave time will be credited with donated time up to the 180 day maximum. Records will be maintained by the Office of Payroll & Benefits showing the donor’s name and the number and type of days donated.
