

How to get to Campus Using NJ Transit Train Service:

The Montclair State University campus is located right next to two train stations. The Montclair Heights train station, located at the south end of campus, is just a few steps away from the main body of the campus. The Montclair State University train station, located at the northwest end of campus, has a campus shuttle service to the main campus area. The Montclair-Boonton line does make stops at both stations.

For a listing of available train service from your location to the Montclair train stations go to:
