

Master of Education in Teaching for Equity and Justice

Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages Certification Program

Our M.Ed. in Teaching for Equity and Justice program is unique in that, while core courses focus on traditional areas of interest for all educators (e.g. curriculum, teaching and learning, assessment, and teacher research), each of these topics is explored through a lens of equity and social justice in education. The program incorporates a specialization in a number of Montclair's existing programs, with both online and in-person coursework modalities. Those who have completed or are currently enrolled in one of the certificate or certification programs listed below at Montclair in the past five years may have up to 18 credits apply toward completion of the program.

Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (Certificate)

This professional certificate program is designed to provide participants with a background in the principles of linguistics and language education along with an understanding of the classroom applications of these principles. These experiences culminate in an ESL teaching practicum. Please note that this certificate program does not provide teacher certification.
