Join the Montclair State University Holocaust, Genocide, and Human Rights Education Project to gain experience in the field of human rights education.

This competitive internship is open to all Montclair State undergraduate students. Interns accepted into the program must register for a three-credit course: EDFD 449 - Current Issues in American Education.

Interns will select a human rights subject, research it and create an engaging lesson plan incorporating the latest teaching technology. Interns will teach at MSU Human Rights University for a Day on March 1, 2019.

Possible human rights topics include:

- The Holocaust
- Black Lives Matter
- Latino/a Civil Rights
- Anti-Semitism
- Women’s History
- Native American Civil Rights
- Refugee Crises
- Anti-Muslim Bias
- LGBTQ Rights and More

In addition, students will help run dynamic public programs including conferences, films and teacher workshops on human rights education.

For more information and to apply, please visit montclair.edu/cehs/human-rights-education-project