APA Citation Style for Academic Writing

Center for Writing Excellence
What is APA Style?

The American Psychological Association (APA) citation style is the most commonly used format for manuscripts in the social sciences.

APA Regulates:

- In-text citations
- References
- Stylistics
APA General Format

- Double-spaced throughout
- 1” Margins
- 12 pt. Times New Roman (however, Arial, a sans serif font is now preferred for accessibility reasons)
- 2 spaces after period in text; 1 space after period in references
- Printed on standard-sized paper (8.5” x 11”)

Center for Writing Excellence (CWE)

There is no great writing, only great rewriting. - Justice Brandeis
Writing is 1% inspiration and 99% elimination. - Louise Brooks
Major Paper Sections

APA Style Includes Four Major Sections:

1. Title Page
2. Abstract
3. Main Body (can include subsections)
4. References

Two Common Formats for Manuscripts:

1. Literature Review
2. Experimental Report/General Research Study
1. Title Page
   - Include running head, title, author’s name and institution affiliation, author note

2. Abstract
   - Provide if appropriate

3. Introduction (note that “Introduction” does not appear as a heading)
   - Define and clarify problem

4. Main Body
   - Present discussion of sources
   - Organize chronologically, thematically (preferred), or methodologically

5. Conclusion/Future Research
   - Identify relations, contradictions, gaps, and inconsistencies in the literature
   - Suggest next step(s) in solving the problem

6. References
   - Include all sources cited

Writing is 1% inspiration and 99% elimination. – Louise Brooks
Experiment/General Research Study

1. Title Page

2. Abstract

3. Introduction (no heading)

4. Literature Review

5. Method
   - Include participants, sampling procedure, materials, measures, research design, etc.

6. Results
   - Summarize collected data, data analyses, and results

7. Discussion
   - Interpret results, discuss implications, and draw inferences related to hypotheses

8. Implications/Conclusions

9. References

10. Footnotes

11. Appendices/Tables/Figures
Title Page

A title page should include:

- The title of the paper (preferably no more than 12 words)
- Author’s name
- The institutional affiliation
- Page header/running head—example below for title page

Running head: TITLE OF YOUR PAPER
Running Head and Page Numbers

The running head should use:

- Capital letters
- Left Justification at top of page
- A maximum of 50 characters, including spaces and

Pages after the title page should have a running head that looks like this:

TITLE OF YOUR PAPER

Page numbers:

- May include author’s last name
- Right justification at top of page
Abstract

• Center the title (Abstract) at the top of page
• Do not bold or underline title
• Provide a concise summary of the key points of your research
• Write a single paragraph, double-spaced, flushed to the left
• Limit the abstract to 150-250 words
• Use keywords, if appropriate
• Place on page 2 of paper after title page

Main Body

• Center manuscript title at the top of the page
• Do not bold or underline title
• Double-space text and begin on page 3 after abstract
• Use 12-point type
• Do not use “Introduction” as a heading title
Reference Page

- Center the title (References) at the top of page
- Do not bold or underline title
- Double-space reference entries
- Flush left the first line of the entry and indent subsequent lines (hanging indent)
- Order entries alphabetically by the last name of the first author of each work
In-Text Citation

Two Methods

Signal Phrase: Author name in running text

Knight (2012) reported that. . .

Parenthetical Citation: Author name in parentheses at end of sentence

The study indicated … (Knight, 2012).
In-Text Citations

Work by One Author

Example 1: Signal Phrase
Smith (2012) found...

Example 2: Parenthetical Citation
...school mascots boosted school spirit (Smith, 2012).
In-Text Citations

Work by Two Authors

Example 1: Signal Phrase
Smith and Jones (2012) found that…

Example 2: Parenthetical Citation
… (Smith & Jones, 2012).
In-Text Citations

Work by Three to Five Authors

The first time you cite the work:

Example 1: Signal Phrase
Research by Smith, Jones, Adams, Brown, and Cook (2012)...

Example 2: Parenthetical Citation
... (Smith, Jones, Adams, Brown, & Cook, 2012).

In subsequent citations:
Research by Smith et al. (2012)...
... (Smith et al., 2012).
In-Text Citations

Work by Six or More Authors

Example 1: Signal Phrase
Research by Smith et al. (2012)...

Example 2: Parenthetical Citations
… (Smith et al., 2012).

Use the first author's name followed by et al. in the signal phrase or in parentheses.
In-Text Citations

Unknown Author:
Cite the source by its title in the signal phrase or use the first word or two of the title in the parentheses.

“Title of work” … (2012).

OR

… (“First words of title,” 2012).

Organization as an Author:
According to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA; 2015), …

OR

… (Food and Drug Administration [FDA], 2015).

If the organization has a well-known abbreviation, include the abbreviation in brackets the first time the source is cited and then use only the abbreviation in later citations.

In subsequent citation:

… (FDA, 2015).
In-Text Citations

Two or More Works in the Same Parentheses:
Order the works alphabetically, separated by a semi-colon

(Smith & Jones, 2014; Williams, 2008)

Authors with the Same Last Name:
Use initials with last name

Two or More Works by an Author in the Same Year:
Use lower-case letters (a, b, c) with the year

(Cook, 2012a)
(Cook, 2012b)
References

Single Author:

Last name first, followed by author initials

Two Authors:

List by last names and initials; use the ampersand instead of “and”

(Paiz et al., 2012)
More Than Seven Authors:

After the sixth author's name, use an ellipsis in place of the author names; provide the final author name.

References

Two or More Works by the Same Author:
Use the author's name for all entries and list the entries by the year (earliest comes first)

When an author appears both as a sole author and in another citation as the first author of a group, list sole author entries first

(Paiz et al., 2012)
Two or More Works by the Same Author:

For references that have the same first author and different second and/or third authors, arrange alphabetically by last name of second author

References

Two or More Works by the Same Author in the Same Year:

Organize sources alphabetically by the title of the article or chapter; assign lower-case letter suffixes to the year

APA Style

Basic Characteristics

1. Clear: Be specific in descriptions and explanations

2. Concise: Condense information when you can

3. Plain: Use simple, descriptive adjectives and minimize the figurative language
APA Style

Point of View

Active Voice vs. Passive Voice
APA Style encourages using active voice!

Active Voice:
The subject of the sentence performs the action expressed in the verb.
Example: Researchers conducted an experiment to test the hypothesis.

Passive Voice:
The subject is acted upon.
Example: An experiment was conducted by researchers to test the hypothesis.

But, there are times when passive voice is preferred in some disciplines or for particular purposes. Look at relevant journals and studies to see what style is being used.
APA Style
Verb Tense

Past Tense or Present Perfect Tense:
- Literature review
- Description of procedure or method
- Reporting of results

Present Tense:
- Implications of results
- Presentation of conclusions
APA Style

Avoiding Bias

• Respect people’s preferences.
• Call people by the pronouns or other designations they prefer if known.
• Make an effort to determine what is appropriate for your situation; you may need to ask your participants what they prefer.
• Singular “they/their” has become increasingly accepted in many publication venues.
APA Style

Person-First Language

- Person with disability (not disabled person)
- Children with autism (not autistic children)
- Individuals with mental illness (not mentally ill people)
- Hard of hearing or deaf (not hearing impaired)
APA Style

Quoting

➢ APA recommends that writers use direct quotes sparingly
  • If you are going to quote, quote with purpose!
  • Include page number with in-text citations

Examples:

According to Jones (1998), “Students often had difficulty using APA style, especially when it was their first time” (p. 199).

OR

According to the researcher, “Students often had difficulty using APA style, especially when it was their first time” (Jones, 1998, p. 199).
