The book of Holocaust poems, Auf Asche Gehen (Walking on Ash), was written by Barbara Wind, the daughter of Holocaust survivors and translated into German by Marlen Gabriel, the daughter of a Werhrmacht soldier whose family fled from Hamburg during the Allied bombing. Wind and Gabriel will discuss their friendship and collaboration. The poem that brought the two together was "My Stolen Goose." This poem is based on a German nursery song that both sang as children.

November 18, 2013 at 11:30 AM
Dickson Hall, Cohen Lounge (DI 178)

Kristallnacht Commemorative Series