Summer in the United States
Summer is synonymous with visiting the beach, spending time with families, taking road trips, and celebrating the many summer holidays in the United States.

American Summer Holidays

Fourth of July (July 4th)
The Fourth of July is a holiday celebrating the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776. This day is commonly associated with parades, barbecues, picnics, and fireworks. Read More via Wikipedia

Memorial Day (May 25th)
A holiday that remembers those who died while serving in the country's armed forces.

Labor Day (September 7th)
A holiday that celebrates the American Labor Movement

Events on Campus:
Day at the Zoo 6/15
River Kayaking 6/24
Backpacking Trip 7/10-12
Gravity Vault Trip 7/18
River Tubing 7/21
Woods Hike 8/5
Archery Trip 8/13

Why I Became an International Redhawk:

Adam Bennetts: Education student, Victoria University, Australia

I first decided to become a red hawk back in Dec 2013. Sitting here in 2015, I can only say that this was the best decision I have made in my life. I chose MSU for 3 main reasons: Read more...