HANNAH SOAR

Hannah Soar is the VP of strategic growth at Kantar Profiles Division, accountable for delivering effective culture change as a foundation for business transformation and growth.

Trained as a lawyer and specializing in organizational development and change, she began her career in legal consultancy, and has a diverse mix of experience crossing industries from banking to policing, leading change strategies to help businesses identify purposeful and diverse ways to achieve business growth.

Hannah is passionate about putting people at the center of these efforts – committed to creating an inclusive world, empowering others to realize their potential and building high performing, engaged teams.

She is an avid traveler, fascinated by exploring new cultures and hiking new territory. Hannah grew up and studied in the U.K., and moved to New York City in 2018 to continue her career with Kantar.

On Wednesday, April 21 at 6 p.m. we will feature an interview with Hannah Soar of Kantar Research. Kantar is the world's leading data, insights and consulting company. It provides actionable recommendations to clients, globally and locally in over 90 markets.
