PUTTING WORDS INTO ACTION

A brand is both an experience and a promise. Every word we write and every image we choose should further and affirm our audience's expectations.

Our brand is not a slogan or a logo. It is the expression of who we truly are, and it enables us to engage our audiences and inspire them to act.

When we know our brand values, mission and purpose, we have what we need to create campaigns and communications that elevate our brand.

HEADLINES WITH IMPACT

Headlines hold unique power. As the saying goes, you never get a second chance to make a first impression – and we want that impression to be a lasting one. Our headlines communicate Montclair State’s brand and values in a just few words.

Montclair State University’s headlines:

- Are active, powerful, optimistic and smart.
- Highlight outcomes and opportunities.
- Capture our “elevate” branding.
- Tap into our brand values.

On the following page are some examples.

Note: Don’t feel restricted by these examples. Feel free to explore options of your own – just be sure to stay on brand.

Tip: Not all headlines will suit all audiences. Shorter, bolder headlines are appropriate for students and some internal communications. External stakeholders may respond better to more formal options.

SUBHEADS THAT MATTER

Subheads support headlines by offering additional information or explanation. They tend to be less stylized and more descriptive.

Montclair State University’s subheads:

- Are straightforward, smart and editorial. They extend a headline by making it concrete.
- Connect back to what we do and offer.
- Are reserved primarily for publications and longer documents where text needs to be broken up.
- May be adapted to suit your audience. Subheads aimed at student audiences tend to be less complex than those targeting secondary audiences.

EXPRESSING OUR BRAND THROUGH VISUALS

The way we look is a distinctive part of our brand. Our logo, our color palette, and even our typography come together to create a recognizable style that's all Montclair State. In this section, we'll outline the key elements of our visual brand, and show you the right way to use them.

LOGOS

PRIMARY LOGO

The Montclair State's primary logo is a powerful symbol of the University. Its symbolic message elevates and enhances brand recognition and reach.

The logo is available in both a centered and flush left format. Usages of each are dependent on the layout of collateral materials. Logos are available as 4 color, 2 color and 1 color (black). No other color versions are acceptable. Delivery as eps (high resolution for printing), jpgs (for microsoft word) and pngs (transparent background, for low-resolution web).

In order to maintain our established brand equity, it is critical that all logos maintain the current branding and voice. This includes all logo requests for specific institutions, departments and events within schools and colleges.

It is critical to use the full combination of the shield and its accompanying words of Montclair State University. The shield should not be taken out of context or used as a separate icon. Logos and marks can not be modified, stretched or distorted, or altered beyond these our brand guidelines.

Logos are available for download from our brand channel at montclair.edu/university-communications/university-logos

One "M" of separation space is required around all sides of the logo.

HEIRARCHICAL LOGOS

Each school, department, center and program has a formal hierarchical logo for their use. Hierarchical logos reinforce brand recognition, credibility and impact.

The sample in the first column indicates a standard hierarchical treatment of:
Primary logo | College | School | Department.

The second column indicates a standard hierarchical treatment when only a college is applicable:
College or Academic Service | Department.

Contact University Communications and Marketing to secure your formal logo. Our job request can be found at montclair.edu/university-communications.

LOGOS

UNIVERSITY WORDMARKS

A wordmark is a text-only typographic treatment featuring only the name of an organization. It is used for the purpose of immediate identification and branding. The name is incorporated into a simple graphic treatment that is easy to recognize.

The wordmark is used in print and web advertising, and promotional deliverables such as imprinted materials. It is not used for academic materials, which uses our primary logo.

Allow for .1875” of space on all sides of the image.
Downloads available from our brand channel at montclair.edu/university-communications/university-logos

UNIVERSITY SEAL

The University Seal is reserved for officially sanctioned uses: executive level (vice president and above) stationery; legal and official documents such as diplomas and transcripts; formal academic ceremonies; and permanent building insignias.

Any use of the seal requires prior authorization from University Communications and Marketing.

RED HAWK BRAND

Our official athletics nickname is the “Red Hawks.” The following are the guidelines for proper use of “Red Hawk” or “Hawk” as well as the use of the Red Hawk logo.

TITLES WITH “RED HAWK” AND “HAWK”

To avoid overuse of Red Hawk and Hawk in the name or title of a program, service, event etc., all such proposed uses must be approved in advance by the Office of University Communications & Marketing. The approximately 40 uses as of October 2020 are allowed to continue. Any future use must be requested in writing in advance and include a justification.

WRITING “RED HAWK”

- Red Hawk” should always be written as two separate words.
- “Redhawk” and “RedHawk” are unacceptable.
- The “R” in Red and the “H” in Hawk should always be capitalized

STUDENT CLUBS AND CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS

The Red Hawk icon captures the pride and excitement that our students have for their Montclair State clubs.

Acceptable treatments

The Red Hawk icon may be used alone or with your club name positioned underneath.

Allow for .1875” of space on all sides of the image.
Downloads available from our brand channel at montclair.edu/university-communications/university-logos

THE RED HAWK ATHLETICS LOGO

is a strong symbol of University pride and excitement for our athletic teams. Its reach extends beyond Montclair State’s campus and community and enhances our Red Hawk brand.

The Athletic logo and its sub-brands are exclusively reserved for our intercollegiate teams. The logo is not to be used to represent University’s administrative, academic, clubs or organizations.

UNIVERSITY MASCOT, ROCKY THE REDHAWK

More information about our University mascot, Rocky the Red Hawk, visit montclair.edu/student-services/student-communications/rocky/rocky-the-red-hawk-usage/

TYPOGRAPHY

The words we choose for our communications are important. But the way we represent those words in type can make them even more meaningful. Consistent, thoughtful use of brand typefaces visually supports our verbal communications and creates a recognizable expression of our identity.

As necessary, substituting the headline, body and accent fonts with the Roboto family will maintain consistent branding throughout materials. Roboto, Roboto Condensed and Roboto Slab can be downloaded via fonts.google.com.

COLORS

PRIMARY

Our color palette expresses the University’s personality and pride. These colors are used to create a consistent and visual identity. The University’s signature color is red. Red and black are our primary university colors.

WHITE

Consider white space as a color in our core palette.

It’s important not to oversaturate a layout with color, type and imagery. Be generous with white space.

PHOTOGRAPHY

ASPIRATIONAL

Our Aspirational photography style captures our promise to deliver an education that lifts people up. Foregrounded in a variety of vivid, inspiring settings, subjects are shown looking up – or are shot from angles that suggest this – in a visual representation of aspiration, contemplation, potential and achievement.

CONTEXTUAL

Photography has the power to connect with people in a way that words often can't. While our logo, colors and typography make us recognizable at a surface level, it's images like these that bring our community and our campus to life, and add a deep sense of humanity and storytelling to our materials. Subjects should always feel natural, unposed, and in a storytelling setting, letting the audience experience a moment in time.

DESIGN ELEMENTS

To further add depth to Montclair State brand identity, additional graphics can be used within marketing materials as visual placeholders, graphic elements and embellishments. They are used sparingly and only one to a page. Contact the department of University Communications and Marketing for use.

PUTTING IT ALL TOGETHER

We've outlined the key elements of our brand. Now we'll show you how it can come to life.

Don't think of these examples as a set of rigid rules. Instead, use them as a guide to understand how the brand comes together, and how it can flex in different types of communication.

"It was really, really challenging to do, but they must be done. We have to see these [images]." She specifically points out footage of an old black man being attacked by a mob, but the film's brutal imagery also includes photos of lynching and modern-day smart phone recordings of black citizens murdered in the hands of police officers.

Aside from just pointing out wrongs and inciting outrage, DuVernay educates us about political subtexts that some perhaps haven't considered before, such as Nixon's war on drugs (a mission more aggressively carried out by Reagan), which put even more people of color behind bars, often for minor, nonviolent offenses that came with mandatory minimum sentences. She calls out both presidential candidates: Trump for his advocacy of the death penalty in the Central Park jogger case, in which five black teenagers were accused of rape but later found innocent, and Clinton for her support of her husband's 1994 crime bill, which put more cops on the streets and provided more money for prisons (Bill Clinton later admitted the bill was a terrible mistake). One of the most eye-opening discoveries from 13th is the corporate control lurking behind the justice system, most notably via policy tank ALEC (American Legislative Exchange Council), which is backed by companies like Walmart (America's biggest seller of guns) and drafts and pushes conservative, often discriminatory bills to state legislatures and Congress. ALEC is the group responsible for Florida's Stand Your Ground law, used to justify the murder of Trayvon Martin in court.

DuVernay isn't expecting to eradicate groups like ALEC or immediately reverse any legislative acts with her film. That would be naive and wishful thinking. Instead, 13th is an educational tool, built on the hope that more awareness will lead to change. "People don't know about this...history," DuVernay said during the Q&A. "They don't know how we've gotten to this moment where people have to actually protest and be in the streets and say, 'My life matters.' My hope is that you see this and we start to change as people, we start to think twice about how we treat each other."

"13th,' is 'not propaganda"

DuVernay was not immediately available for comment on this story, but when asked about her documentary on a red carpet at Variety's Power of Women event on Friday, the director told a reporter the Trump footage was "part of an overall tapestry."
